2. Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibit: Hurto, Reinheimer, Chambers and Borde talked about the September 6th Smithsonian exhibit workshop at Grinnell. The workshop was hosted by Grinnell College and held at the Buggies factory. Terri Cobb from the Smithsonian Institution
One of the meetings was at the Billy Robinson meeting room. Hurto talked about Billy Robinson who was a pilot. Grinnell and would be the first to display the exhibit and it had been shipped to Grinnell. The exhibit is based on innovation, Hurto talked about individuals involved in innovation in Newton. Chambers talked about the exhibit, that it would appeal to school aged children. She said that there might consider having an open house with ribbon cutting on December 14th.
Reinheimer talked about the various displays and the workshop details. There was discussion on whether we will need insurance for the exhibit and it was decided that we do not. Hurto said that this would be a great opportunity for the Jasper County Museum to display some of their exhibits. The Smithsonian exhibit was not on a priority list for the State of Iowa, so Grinnell college covered the fees for bringing this exhibit to Iowa and offered the opportunity to other cities and towns on Iowa. Borde said the next steps would involve deciding the logistics of the exhibit like the location and the times.

There would be a meeting between City staff, Main St. and DMACC to plan the logistics. Staff will work on ordering the posters and the postcards.
